

Bem-vindo ao Brasil os meus amigos,
(welcome to Brazil my friends)

I hope you all had a fantastic half term holiday! We are kick starting our final term this year with 'Rio de Vida' so I hope you have your dancing shoes ready! The next few weeks are going to be filled with bright colours, patterns and feathers. We are going to celebrate with fabulous music and songs! Just what we need to keep those smiles on our faces!

Keep sending me all of your work, and even fun / positive things you have been up to, on Class Dojo.

In a shake, garter snake!

Love from,
Miss Hassan

Science

Experimenting with different liquids

You will need:

- A glass jar
- Vegetable or sunflower oil
- Water
- LEGO or other small objects

Instructions:

1. Pour some water carefully into a glass jar.
2. Very carefully add the same amount of cooking oil on top
3. Predict what you think might happen before carefully dropping small objects into the mixture
4. Observe what happens. Can you find an object to float on each layer?
5. What happens if you shake the jar? Write your findings in your workbook.

Music

Hold a Brazilian carnival day to kick start this colourful topic. Dress up in your brightest carnival clothes and you could even make coloured bunting and flags to decorate your home.

Watch this video to learn about samba drumming

You could download a selection of copyright free, samba music samples using Audio Network.

<https://www.audionetwork.com/>

Listen to the music of Brazil and see how many instruments they can hear. Find out the dictionary definition of 'percussion' and experiment with playing the instruments they hear. Can they be played in more than one way to create different sounds?

Geography

Use Google Earth to search for and locate Brazil. Use the search or zoom function to take a closer look at Brasilia, Brazil's capital city, and identify any human features. Use geographical vocabulary to identify human features and record them in a list. Think about what it might be like to live there, answering questions, such as 'What size is this place? What human features can you see? What do you think it would be like to live there?'

Human features include sports complexes, roads, houses and aqua parks. When viewed from the air, Brasilia has an aeroplane shaped settlement pattern. Can you spot it?

You could also watch Bitesize Daily on Tuesday. They will be giving an introduction to South America - Rio De Janeiro.
